“ Oh Kevin this is such a shock. I just new you would receive another kidney. You was a special young man. You had a way about you from the time you came into this world to make people smile. You know I loved you so much. There will never be a day that you will not be on my mind. I know you had fought a battle for so many years. I Know there were days that no one knew how you really hurt. Days you were sick, lonely, depressed, but, the strength that we seen was amazing. You never complained of how you felt. You kept it all inside. I am so thankful for every minute I was blessed with been with you. You will forever be missed and loved. No more sickness, no pain, no more heartache for you. Someday, we will all be together again. You took a piece of my heart with you. I love you!

“ He was an awesome guy, and we had a lot of fun times.... I know he battled this for a long time and he is finally at peace. I knew him pretty much all my life. I'll never forget when we all went camping as seniors and Kev was the light on the mountain, only ppl that were there will know what that means. Rest easy bub, I'll see you again one day.
