“ How could you not love Alvin? He was a wonderful person and a gentleman in every sense of the word. I cherish the good times we had at bluegrass and especially when he came to our house every July for our backyard bluegrass event. He loved to hear our grandson, Gabe, pick the banjo with Kauffman Road Bluegrass Band. He will surely be missed by many.

“ Alvin was an amazing person. Every Morning he would meet at McDonald's with his friends and he included myself and my boys in his morning smiles. The boys would hug him before we left for school. He made us smile, and my children did not have a grandpa he stood in wonderfully. Always asked about school, sports and tell me I was doing a good job. He was a great man and this earth will miss him. I am sure he is happy to finally be reunited with his “beautiful” wife. We miss you!

“ Alvin was a very good neighbor to us for 29 years. We missed him dearly when we moved to Tennessee five years ago; and we know he missed us. My husband spent many times jawing and listening to Alvin’s stories while they sat in his garage driveway. Wally taught Alvin a lot about computers and Alvin helped his friends with theirs. Alvin was like a big brother to Wally and a wonderful friend. When Lois died, Alvin was lost. We had him over for dinner or went out to eat. He appreciated our kindness and help get him through an awful time in his life. Our kids knew they could count on Alvin to help them with a tire or car problem if their Dad wasn’t around. Alvin, Wally & several of Alvin’s friends were members of the Saturday breakfast bunch & would meet at various eateries over the years. Friendship, fellowship & fun were on the menu. We will miss him and his helpful kindness forever!!!

“ I loved Alvin, everytime I went to visit my brother wally berry, Alvin would come over and entertain us with his many stories, make us laugh so hard and always gave wally a hard time with his kidding, I left a message on his phone before he passed, pray he got it, he was a good, honest, faithful, and served his country with honor 🇺🇸
🏆 He will be missed!!!!
