“ Cookie was a dear aunt for I know she went through a lot she was very caring. even through her family forgot her sister France and Madelyn in the obituary. May she rest in pence and May God Bless.

John M Gregory - December 23, 2017 at 09:40 AM

Wonder why they forgot to mention the two half sisters? Maybe it's because Francis and Madelyn didn't give a crap about Arlene just like her dead half brother Harold didn't care about anyone but himself.

“ I am so saddened that you are no longer with us. You and James are the sweetest, most loving people I had the pleasure of knowing. You were one of the very first people to come visit Olivia when she was born and she loves the baby doll you and James gave to her. I love you like family and you will be missed dearly. I love you. Rest easy now

“ To my Mom, I sit here some 1500 miles away in Colorado Springs and it hurts me so bad that I can not be there. I have cried so many tears today because I will never get to say goodbye to you as a son should be able to.

Deep down you knew why I had to leave, as I would never be given an opportunity to live a full life there in Princeton, so I left to better the lives of my wife and son as well as myself. When I got the call this morning from my brother that you had passed away I immediately became numb. I know that you and I had our differences, we burned our bridges and rebuilt them but one thing never changed and that was you were my mother and I do love you.

I know that you have suffered with pain and discomfort for a long time but today our Living God took that from you. You no longer have to carry that burden with you. You rejoice in the Heavens with Angels that sing and dance and praise the name of the Most High God! Today you are an Angel. You earned those wings and you surely deserve them. No one here on this earth can say you never worked hard, because you did more than your share. I had seen you leave one fulltime job to go work another part time job because you had to. You were strong until the end, you were faithful until the end and I know that the legacy that you leave behind today won't be written about in blogs or posts but your legacy will live on.

I wish that things had been different between us, I wish that we spent more time talking than yelling, more time loving than criticizing, more time laughing than we did at spewing negative words but then again life is not fancy, life is not easy and life is not a basket of red roses. Life is real, pain is real and at the end of the day all we have is Grace given to us by the Lord and creator of the Heavens and the earth.

Arlene Nelson was my mom, to my brother she was his best friend and to my dad she was his soul mate. She was not perfect. She was not invincible as we see by the events of today. But today she joins a cast of many to include my grandparents, but this cast is now lining the streets of Heaven where there is rejoicing going on. There is no more pain, no more shame, and no more sickness. SHE IS IN HEAVEN!!! SHE IS AN ANGEL and one day I will see her again. One day, I will get to hug her again, and until that day I will keep pressing forward as I know that is what she would want me to do.

I Love you Arlene Nelson, may you rest in peace!

Freddie Nelson - December 21, 2017 at 10:50 PM

Your mom was a very beautiful soul and was loved by many. I'm so sorry she is gone but, I'm so glad she is no longer suffering. I loved her dearly.
