“ Cody you were a Great Friend and an even more Amazing person. I feel truly blessed to have gotten to know you and call you a friend. I know we hadn't talked much over the last few years with everything we all had going on but that time doesn't change the amount of respect and love I have for you. I'll never forget everything you've done for me from introducing me to your amazing family to working with me and all our talks. You left an impression on my life that made me a better person and my only regret is not being able to tell you that. Rest easy Brother Until we get to meet again.
