I know this is not easy for the family but she will be missed. Loved spending time with her and when I visited both her and Junior I told Jr I'm cooking today you have the day off. Loved listening to her stories she had to tell. Her home was filled with so much love no matter who you were she always welcomed everyone with open arms and feed them. I learned alot from her and will always cherish those moments. I know you are celebrating up in heaven. Love you Ethel

“ Our hearts go out to the Dalton family and especially to our dear friend Junior. What a wonderful life your mom had on this earth and what a glorious day it must be in Heaven as she is reunited with all of her friends and family. Her beautiful quilts are magnificent works of art that will last for many years to come. We send our deepest condolences to the friends and family of this great lady. May God bless you each and every one.

“ Aunt Ethel, you spread your wings and went to Heaven today. I will truly miss you. Growing up in the Widener family with so many Aunts has been an adventure. I was showed so much love by everyone. I remember when momma would try to buy me clothes for Christmas, she would ask you and Aunt Nellie to try on the clothes for her for me, knowing if they fit you, they would fit me. She would get such a kick out it. You have always been so very kind to me. You told me about being in school with my daddy and having fun in math class. Your gift for sewing and making beautiful quilts will never be forgotten, even at age of 100 had made a beautiful quilt that will be treasured by your love ones forever. So many memories, I will keep in my heart forever, love you, Brenda Cline McKeever
