“ Glenn and I would sit on the back stoop and just talk and hang out. It was always good hearing his stories, then sometimes we would sit and watch the horses or take a quick nap. Then Lucille and I would go shopping. When Misty and Katie were little the called him pawpaw, there was always love for the girls from Glenn and they returned it back. He will always be a light in our lives. We will miss him but the love will never end.
