“ Jennifer, I never had privilege to meet in person. She came to my grandma’s home and took care of her when she had cancer . Washing her hair etc. she was so sweet and caring, my grandmother Thelma Kennedy had nothing but nice words to say about Jennifer. But their friendship went both ways she became friends with my family bonding with them , doing simple acts of kindness. But to this day , we talk about the friendship that my grandmother had with Jennifer.... she had with the whole family so much that me , in NC I had to talk to this infamous woman who my family raved about. And so I began to talk to her on Facebook and she was so sweet, she struggled with illness but her kindness never dimmed!!! You will be missed Jennifer for you touched so many lives like the wind on a wonderful warm spring day. Now you are at peace and no health issues...

“ Oh Jennifer, it doesn't seem right for you to be gone. We have been friends since 7th grade. If it was silly, we have probably laughed about it or at it. I'll never forget our sleepovers at your house singing to George Strait. Rest in peace my sweet friend. ❤️
