

Mark W. Walker

October 26, 2014

Mark W. Walker, 56, of Princeton died Sunday, October 26, 2014 at Princeton Community Hospital. Born in Suitland, MD, he was the son of Betty Scott Walker of Princeton and the late Willis Walker.

He was a veteran of the United States Navy completing several deployments during his term of service. He was of the Baptist faith.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by two brothers, Kent Walker of Christiansburg, VA and Michael Walker of Princeton; one sister, Sandra Walker Pitzer of Charleston, SC; seven nephews, three nieces and two special friends, Ron and Mark Hess, all of whom he was very fond.

A private memorial service for family and relatives will be held Wednesday, October 29 at the home of his mother with Rev. Billy Scott and Mr. Charles Ervin officiating. In keeping with his wishes the body has been cremated.

In lieu of flowers, please consider making donations to Hospice Compassus.

Arrangements by Bailey-Kirk Funeral Home in Princeton. Online condolences may be sent to the family at www.bailey-kirk.com.

“ Aunt Betty I am so sorry for your loss. I know a child is a blessing from God. Sometimes we wonder why God allows those so much younger than ourselves to come home first. There is no answer in my heart but I know God is a merciful God and will Lead us through all the deep valleys we must pass through. I am praying for you to have strength and for all of your children to be able to make peace with all that has happened. Mellie

“ Mark always touched my heart. He was so intelligent and this was exhibited to me playing a trivia game with him, which he seemed to enjoy so much. My sons will miss their Uncle Mark. He is at peace now with Jesus.

“Betty and Family, I am very sorry for your loss. Or perhaps I should say, Our loss. I loved Mark. He was a free spirit that could not be grounded, but his heart was full of love and kindness for those he cared for. I was blessed to be one of those people. Mark used to call me and just talk. Nothing in particular, just whatever was on his mind. He liked to talk about cooking. A strange subject for me, because I didn't ! But it was always good to share a few minutes of his life. He had his weaknesses; his vices; don't we all. I am glad to know that he is with God and his body and mind are at peace.

To Sandy, Kent and Mike, I know that it is difficult to lose a brother. I lost my only sibling some years ago. We don't need to understand. We just have to know that God has a master plan, and it was Mark's turn to find peace within himself, and to be released from this crippled, cold, unrelenting world.

To Betty, there are no words to give to a grieving Mother. I know. As I know what I have watched my Mom go through. Time heals. Never let go of those precious memories. They truly do help when you just want to succumb to sadness. Remember the nurturing times the two of you shared together. I know he made you laugh, because he certainly did me! He was a character!

You know who else he made laugh? Daddy! Can you imagine? He and Dad became pretty close there for a while. He brought out the "personality" that Dad's tough exterior likes to hide from the world. Dad admired Mark because he was just simple, plain, ordinary, nothing special, just Mark. This tragedy has brought Dad to tears. You should know that.

I wanted to come up for the service. But I am sick. I have a terrible sinus infection and laryngitis. I simply don't feel like traveling. But please know that my heart and my soul are with you all. And my love is with Mark.

My deepest sympathy, Konnie
