“ Momma how do I go on without you? My days feel empty. There’s a hole in my heart . I don’t think my heart will ever stop hurting. I miss taking you dinner when I’d get off work, watching the news , gun smoke and listening to you talk about how good looking Matt Dillion was, or watching two and a half men and setting on your porch. We would set on your porch and listen to the frogs in the spring and watch the trees get their leaves, complain about how we hated the heat in the summer and in the fall we would listen to the fall bugs and watch the leaves slowly turn their beautiful colors. I’ll miss the times we would run to Princeton just to get a coke from McDonald’s because we both said they had the best coke ever. I’ll never know what’s going on in the world now because i never watch the news unless it was with you and you kept me updated. You always said I needed to watch it and I’d mumble and say I didn’t need to know what was going on in the world that we had enough bad things happening right around us. I just miss you mom. My life will never be the same with you gone. But I wouldn’t bring you back from the glorious place you now call home for nothing. I’m so thankful you have a new body and you are no longer suffering. That gives my soul a little peace. I just hope you knew how special you were to me and how much I loved you. I’m so very thankful for all the talks, laughs and even the tears God allowed us to have these last few months. All the times I got to hear you say you loved me and all the times you told me you didn’t know what you would have done without me. We’ll now, I don’t know what to do without you. Give dad a hug for me. I can only imagine what a joyous reunion that was. As long as I live, both of you will be remembered ❤️ Fly high my sweet momma - marie
