“ Dear Colleen and family,

My father, Chester, and uncle Landle had a very good relationship. And it has been an honor to meet and associate with your family briefly, over the last few years. We met at Bev's family activities, and you both were very helpful in studying our family history.

Thanks so much for sharing your family with us, and we look forward to seeing you again.

“ Dear Colleen,

I was deeply saddened when I read of Ted's passing this morning. Ruth Ann and I want to offer you and your family our condolences on your loss.

It has been six or more years since I last saw Ted, but his picture brought back many good memories of our partnership together. I remember one family picnic that Enco sponsored for it's employees. Several of them, after drinking a little too much, decided that a real tribute of respect for Ted would be to toss him in the lake. I remember that being the last picnic at which we provided alcohol.

Ted was instrumental in my becoming a business owner. He was more than just my partner, he helped me find the courage to step into that unknown territory of starting a new business. We were complimentary to each other in the business and I am glad that he realized his initial objective of starting the company and then getting out in 1990.

I kept the business and retired from it in 2012. Our children now run it.

It is nice to see that you and Ted have had the pleasure of seeing your four grandchildren grow up. Ruth Ann and I know that pleasure with our own 11 grandchildren, aged 2 to 13.

May Ted rest in peace and you and your family have many loving memories of him.

Sincerely yours,

Jim and Ruth Ann Doerger
