“ Vickie, you were my friend, my pal, my confidant, my partner in crime and above all you were the other half for life to the end as the vows we said to each other 32 years ago. It hurt when you were taken away. If only we both knew then just maybe, but, we will never know except we will see each other before too long. You are in my prayers when I need to know something and yet your memory will remain to the end of life for me and others who enjoyed your friendship and company. I know deep inside that you've acquired your wings when you left for your strength and belief could move mountains. You may be gone but deep inside you have a special place in my heart and definitely not forgotten. R.I.P. sweetness, I never gave up on us!
